Who I am ?

I am 20 . I'm co-founder of cawana, a startup who try to change communication's rules through video. I do photo, video, to share my vision of the world ! I like to do communication strategy and help brand to grow on their digital side. Love underground music like techno house and hip hop. I currently live in Paris where I study at the W school, it's a school created by the CFJ, School of Journalism. It is a school dedicated to the digital culture and content creation . I am interested in journalism, communication and creativity.
